Merchants' Terminal Still Reaching for New Franchises.

ITS PAST DOINGS REVIEWED.

Some Correspondence Which, With Re cent Occurrences, Throws a Peculiar Light on Terminal Affairs.

The Terminal Railway Co. wants to get from the Merchants' Bridge to the western city limits, presumably to connect with its projected belt line, for which it already has franchises, both from the city and St. Louis County. The bill introduced in the House of Delegates on Tuesday night, if it passes, will give it the desired connection That bill does not provide for any consideration whatever to be paid by the Terminal company for the franchise. Not only should a consideration be exacted for this hould a consideration be exacted for this articular right of way, but the opportunity sented to make the company pay for

The Merchants' Bridge Terminal Co. has, perhaps, obtained more franchises from the city for nothing than any corporation within or entering the city. Up to date it has not paid a cent into the city treasury for all the valuable franchises granted it. In look-ing over the steam railroad franchises, the eye is greeted with "an ordinance authoriz-ing the St. Louis Merchants' Bridge Ternal Railway Co. to construct, maintain and operate additional branch tracks, spurs, switches, etc.," until it becomes monoton-ous and one wonders whether any room is left for any grants to any other com pany. And only one of all these ordinances provides for the payment of any considera-tion whatever. That is the original ordi-nance 14,078, approved July 9, 1887, providing for the payment of $5,000 into the City Treasury on Jan. 1, 1894 and every year there after, and this has not been complied with.

THE COMPTROLLER'S PLAINT.

After looking over the various ordinances relating to this company, a Post-Dispatch reporter visited the Comptroller's office to certain how much money the company d paid into the City Treasury.

"Not a cent," said Comptroller Sturgeon, hen he was asked. "That company has romised more and done less than any coming I know of."

Asked why the payments had not been ade, Mr. Sturgeon produced some correspondence which makes interesting readspondence which makes interesting reading.

First is a letter dated Feb. 13, 1894, from Mr. Sturgeon to the company, in which he calls attention to Sec. 6 of ordinance 14,078, providing that the company shall file with the Comptroller on Jan. 1 of each year a statement of the company's earnings and expenses for the previous year; also to Sec. 11, which provides for the payment of $5,000 a year into the City Treasury.

C. C. Rainwater, president of the company, in a letter, replied that as soon as the statement could be made out it would be filed. The illness of Capt. Greenough, secretary and treasurer, had delayed things a little. It was impossible to make out the statement, covering a year's business, in a day, but it would be forthcoming in a few days. But as to the $5,000 annual payment, Mr. Rainwater called attention to Section 6 of Ordinance 16,125, approved April 6, 1891, which, if complied with, would absolve the company from the conditions imposed by the Mr. Rainwater called attention to Section 6 of Ordinance [1,185, approved April 6, 189], which, if compiled with, would absolve the company from the conditions imposed by the previous ordinance. Grdinance [1,185, proved on the vicinity of Round Top Market, work on which was to be commenced within two years and be completed within five years from the approval of the ordinance, said depot to cost not less than $80,000. Mr. Rainwater stated that the company had ance with this latter ordinance, and, while he admitted that failure to complete the depot might render the company had sance with this latter ordinance, and, while he admitted that failure to complete the depot might render the company has in all last-named ordinance. All of which meass that this can not be ascersained until April 6, 1896, the time limit of the ordinance.

OPINIONS UPON THE SITUATION. This correspondence was submitted to City Counselor Marshall, and he was asked to be company had submitted plans and specifications to the Board of Public Improvements on March 2, 1881, and these were approved on April 3, 1882. This left three days in which the company had submitted plans and specifications to the Board of Public Improvements on March 2, 1882, and these were approved on April 3, 1882. This left three days in which the company had been begun. He did not give the date of the beginning, nor how much—or, rather, how little—work had been done, but it is a sure thing that the visible results are hard to find.

Referring to this alleged beginning or work and the more approached the sure of the more approached the sure of the rather, now little—work had been done, but it is a sure thing that the visible results are hard to find.

Referring to this alleged beginning of work, Mr. Marshall, in his written opinion, says:

"I am not advised whether the company in good faith began work within two years after April 6, 1891. If so, it has until April 6, 1896, to complete the work."

For the rest, Mr. Marshall is of the opinion that the city must wait until then before the provisions of Section 11 of Ordinance 14,078 can be enforced. Under this opinion, therefore, the city must wait another year to find out whether the company is liable for the $5,000 annual payments, which were to have begun on Jan. 1, 1894.

But neither Mr. Rainwater nor Mr. Marshall contends that this second ordinance affected section 6 of the first ordinance affected section 6 of the first ordinance affected section 6 of the second ordinance affected section 6 of the second ordinance affected section 6 of the second ordinance affected section 6 of the first ordinance affected section 6 of the first ordinance affected section 6 of the second ordinance affected section 6 of the first ordinance affected section 6 of the first ordinance affected section 6 of the second ordinance affected section 6 of the first ordinance affected sect office, no statement is on file for any previous year.

A BRIEF REVIEW.

To give the reasons why this provision was inserted, it is necessary to go briefly into the history of the Merchants' Bridge. Before it was projected merchants were suffering from the charges of the Eads Bridge. The Merchants' Bridge was planned as the only relief, and a committee of merchants went, at their own expense, to Washington to urge the passage of the bridge bill, so great was the necessity for a competitor to break the monopoly enjoyed by the Eads Bridge. The bill was passed, and the Merchants' Bridge Terminal Rallway Co. was granted a valuable franchise giving it right of way to the bridge and northward, anywhere this side of Chain-of-Rocks, with a branch westward along Bircher street, across Calvary Cemetery, Semple avenue, King's highway, Natural Bridge road and Goodfellow avenue to the city limits. Besides this numgrous ordinances for other branch tracks, spans and switches were passed at intervals afterwards. The merchants of St. Louis never respect the expected benefits, as about the time the bridge and terminal tracks were completed a coalition was formed with the Eads Bridge. $15,227,000. It is for one-fourth share of the claim against the Central Pacific System.

aweeping tariff reductions, like the letter that was looked for, never came.

But in the expectancy of these reductions sec 6, ordinance 14,078, was inserted. It provides that the company should receive from and deliver to any other rallway company, person, firm or corporation that had, or might thereafter have connection with its tracks, any and all loaded cars, and deliver empties free of charge. The rate for the transportation of any car to any station, iritial or terminal, was not to exceed sl, within the city limits, and it was to be done without delay or discrimination. It was further provided that whenever the net profits exceeded 8 per cent per annum of the capital actually invested, the charges were to be reduced so as to produce a net maximum revenue of 8 per cent. It was to secure this reduction that the stipulation was made that the company should annually file a statement of its receipts and exonses.

The original ordinance provided for the

was made that the company should annually file a statement of its receipts and exopases.

The original ordinance provided for the erection of a passenger depot, to cost not less than $200,000, somewhere between Bremen street and the southern terminal of the company. Ordinance 16,125 supplanted this. The company bought the Round Top Market, and a whole lot of other property in the vicinity. Indeed, it owns most of the property from the Round Top Market to the Burlington Depot, and from Broadway to Main. It is still buying property, whether for the purpose of building a depot or not remains to be seen.

It was supposed that the Union Station obviated the necessity of the Terminal Company erecting a depot, but the company say still professes to be intent on carrying out the ordinance. When the bill to vacate Hempstead street was before the Council Railroad Committee Friday Mr. Rainwater contended that the company wanted the atreet vacated because it expected to build that depot.

But, it is argued, if the company wants to build a depot for the transaction of its own business, it is no reason why it should be absolved from the payments imposed on it, and which were entirely inadequate to the benefits conferred. Leaving out of the question the obstruction of streets and damages, the rental of the public property, occupied by the company, based on 8 per cent interest on what it has paid for private property would amount, it is estimated, to at least $100,000 a year. Now it is asking for more grants of streets, and the opportunity to make up for past leniency by inserting a substantial consideration clause to the pending bill, is before the Municipal Assembly.

THE IRIDESCENT STATESMAN Chat With the Ex-Senator From Kansas at the Union Station.

Ex-Senator Ingalls spent some hours a he Union Station Saturday morning wait ing for a train westward. He came in from Boston, where he has been on private busi ness. In company with a Post-Dispatch re-porter and Station Officer O'Connor, the Senator looked through the building, saying he had visited the depot at Frankfort-on-the-Main and that it could in no way compare with the St. Louis station. While in the private dining room, looking at the painting of the bridge, he spoke of the recent suicide of a woman by jumping off the Eads structure, an account of which he had read in the Post-Dispatch, observing: "Wha

JOSEPH RETTER'S RIFLE. It Caused Consternation in Joseph Werner's Saloon.

Joseph Retter, said to be a wealthy property owner in South St. Louis, entered Joseph Werner's saloon, 1712 South Broad-way, Friday afternoon. Walking to the center of the room, Retter is said to have raised a rife, and, drawing a bead on Werner, told him to fall on his knees and say his prayers as his time had come. The sight of the leveled rifle coupled with so dire a threat had a terrible effect on the dire a threat had a terrible effect on the patrons congregated at the bar, and a general stampede ensued. Everyone of them made a break for the door, overturning chairs and tables and falling over one another in their effort to get out of harm's way. The door itself was nearly torn from its hinges by their hasty exit. Werner himself, however, stood still in his tracks, not daring to move with the ominous muzzle of the rifle pointed at his head.

"Get down on your knees and say your prayers," repeated Retter, "for it is the last chance of the kind you will have on earth." Down on his marrow bones dropped Werner and he was in the act of mumbling a fervent prayer when Officer Bickerton rushed in and arrested Retter.

The rifle on examination proved to be unloaded.

delegates were only beginning to arrive at the hall. As soon as the eighteen names were selected by the committee this morning they were hurriedly arranged in printed circular form to be distributed at the convention hall. Each delegate received one of the circulars as he passed into the hall. The leaders of the party were present in large numbers.

Among the notables on hand were exmayor Allen, Excise Commissioner Bell, Col. Ed Butler and his son, James J., the ex-City Attorney; School Director Sheehan, Postmaster Carlisle, Dr. Frank J. The present is an adjourned session of the convention of last Wednesday a week ago, and the old officers, consisting of Chairman Allen, Secretary Barreit and Sergeant-atarms Sheridan, took charge. Police Captain O'Malley was present with part of his command to preserve order.

At 1:45 o'clock, the convention was called to order by Chairman Allen. There was considerable delay before business could be proceeded with, but, on roll-call by wards, every delegation was found to be present.

When the report of the committee on resolutions was called for, Chairman Martins asked that the committee be allowed to retire and formulate a report. Nicholas Bell objected. He said that the committee had had all the week to prepare a report, and had been instructed, when appointed, to report at this meeting. Mr. Martins retorted that it was not in accordance with Democratic usage for the committee on resolutions to prepare a platform in advance. Mr. Bell then presented a resolution which he desired should be read and referred to the committee on resolution indorsed the Democratic State Senate in passing the election, reform bill.

A resolution to take a recess for fifteen minutes, while the committee on resolutions was out, was carried by a close vote, after considerable opposition.

DUESTROW

Judge Rassieur Gives Union Proceedings Preference.

HIS POWERS DISCRETIONARY

Reasons for the Probate Judge's Action Dispose of Attorney McDonald's Theory of Insanity.

in the Probate Court Saturday morning that the application for an inquiry into the mental condition of Arthur Duestrow, the wife and child murderer, was refused for reasons to be handed down later. Judge Rassleur gave as a reason for not handing down his written opinion at the time that the statement was not finished. He had been at it before the time for opening court. As he had stated, however, that he would pass on the matter this week he announced the derision which he had arrived at.

This is a victory for the State, in the pro-e-cution of Duestrow. Had Judge Rassieur permitted the inquiry to be made Circuit Attorney Zachritz would have had to fight it and under great difficulties. First, he to confront, for Duestrow, according to the lawyers in the different proceedings, is af-flicted with divers forms of insanity. At-torney Marshall McDonald, who representtorney Marshall McDonald, who representing A. C. Bernays, instituted the present precedings, stated, in making his application for the inquiry into Duestrow's sanity, that this matter would not interfere with the proceeding at Union, as Duestrow might be of so unsound a mind that he could not manage his affairs and yet be fully competent mentally to answer for and be tried for the killing of his wife and child. Mr. McDonald did not explain how this could be, but expected to do it by medical experts.

Then also Mr. Zachritz would have had a comparatively short time in which to prepare his defense, while Mr. McDonald has, perhaps, been looking up his evidence for a considerable period.

Dr. Bernays' interest in the matter is a claim against Duestrow of $15.000 for attending Duestrow's wife after she had been shot by her husband.

Judge Rassieur handed down his written opinion shortly before he adjourned court at 1 p. m., the opinion having been copied by the Judge's typewriter from the manuscript prepared by the Judge before court opened. Judge Rassieur's reasons in a nuishell are that the Probate Court is vested with a discretionary power in the matter, which he thinks fit to exercise. The word "insane" used in the statute, the Court holds, covers all forms of mental affections, and therefore Mr. McDonald's distinction is knocked out.

As the inquiry at Union was begun first the judge holds it should have precedence. It is clearly to Duestrow's interest, the judge says, to be declared insane, and if a proceeding was brought he would aid in the prosecution, and whether unsoundness of mind existed or not the result would be a foregone conclusion in favor of the petitioner's application.

"I decline," concludes the opinion, "at present to issue a writ of inquiry, and will postpone further action in this matter until it is apparent that no wrong will be done to the State by the assuming of jurisdiction in this court, and such procedure will not interfere with the exercise of the same or similar jurisdiction by the C

One and One-half Million Acres to Be Opened

WASHINGTON, March 16.-It is expected by the Land Department that the surveys on the Colville Indian reservation will have progressed sufficiently during the summer and Indian allotments made so that a million and a half acres will be opened to settlement. These lands are in Northeast-ern Washington, the ceded lands being on the Northern border. It has been several years since these lands were ceded, but ow-ing to delay or lack of funds for making surveys no steps have been taken toward opening them to settlement, although there has been some demand for it. The Indians who so elect may take their allotments on the ceded lands, but owing to there being no the ceded lands, but owing to there being no surveys the allotments could not be made. Arrangements were finally perfected by Commissioner Lamoreaux of the General Land Office to survey the agricultural lands or such other tracts as might be desired by the Indians. They will then be given an opportunity to take their allotments upon the ceded lands, after which the whois tract will be open to settlement.

Upon this tract there is said to be valuable. Upon this tract there is said to se valuably mineral deposits. While it was in the hands of the Indians the mines were not prospected or developed, but it is expected that as soon as the lands are opened the mineral properties will receive attention.

Exact information as to the various movements cannot readily be obtained, owing to the government havstopped all telegraphic communication s was foreseen and provided for.

This was foreseen and provided for.

Each section of the revolt has been practically operating independently so far. Each leader fights on his own account, thus distracting the Spanish forces and leaving them in perpetual doubt as to how, where and when the next blow will be struck. At every point, occupied the insurgents first act is to destroy the telegraph, so the government shall be left in the dark as to their movements. It is supposed in Havana and Santiago that Dr. Grillo, the President of the Autonomy party, and Urbana Sanchez have fied before the Spaniards. Their movements, however, are strategic. Grillo is here. He came yesterday, via Montego Bay. Sanchez has gone to San Domingo.

The arrival of Grillo is but the carrying out of one of the principal plans of the insurgents. Fourteen other insurgents accompanied him. The Cubans here are very active, yet no overt act that could bring them under the direct notice of the British horities has been, or is likely to be, comied. In fact, to all appearances, these ors know nothing about any revolution, do nothing but behave themselves with at circumspection. Nevertheless, the rrespondent has secured all the latest was that they can give.

Besides mystifying the military authories by dark movements, the insurgent works have struck several blows heavily and with rapidity, each, it is declared, having accomplished its object. They were all to secure strategic positions. Many pointy of vantage are now occupied inland, and good secret coast protections are held, through which supplies are drawn, despite Spain's watchfulness. An American connected with the revolutionary movements said to the correspondent: "We've got the Spain's watchfulness. Col. E. Dominguez holds out at Majaguabo under similar conditions. At Guantano (Cumberland Harbor) Pedro Perex has been taking the offensive. It seems that several insurgents got caught in the town. Perex, a veteran of the 1888 revolution, decided that if he could not take the town he would rescue his friends. He made two attacks, in which he brilliantly carried out his intention, though at the cost of some heavy fighting. The unexpectedness and audacity of the attacks carried them through. Perex then marched to El Cuero, where he gave the garrison battle outside the town. He beat the Spanish forces, and, cleverly cutting in between them and the town, got possession, fortified himself and was awaiting orders when last heard from. In Baines, Col. Lordss is at the head of 300 men, but is only recruiting to avoid the troops. His position is precarious. Several well-equipped regiments were besieging Mantansas, which, it appears, it was deemed necessary to capture as soon as possible.

Plenty of arms and ammunition are said to be in Cuba already and more are being received almost daily—or nightly. As soon as it is decided to begin heavy fighting it is asserted that about every able-bodied male Cuban will take to the field and that the decisive blows will be struck at many points at the same time.

DETAINED AT BLUEFIELDS. American Schooner Meteor Suspected of Carrying Arms to Insurgents.

MOBILE, Ala., March 16 .- The American schooner Meteor, which sailed from Mobile in February with clearance papers for three distinct points, has been tied up at Bluefields by the Nicaraguan Government. The Meteor was suspected of carrying arms and ammunition for insurgents, but when she left Mobile this was vigorously denied ahe left Mobile this was yigorously denied by ber agent, W. H. Martin of Martin, Taylor & Co. When she landed at Bluefields it was found that her clearance papers were not straight, and the officials took charge of her, demanding that the cargo be unloaded before their eyes.

This news is brought by the steamship Espana, which left Bluefields March 7. When the Espana sailed for Mobile the Meteor had not discharged her cargo, and Capt. Hansen could not confirm the truth of the story conecting the schooner with carrying srms. The schooner's agents in Mobile have heard nothing from Bluefields, but insist that it is an outrage to detain their vessel when there is no evidence to connect her with a violation of the law.

The Espana is in the banana trade between this port and Bluefields.

FOR THE ALLIANCA AFFAIR.

This Form of Reparation Has Been Made by the United States in More Than One Case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.-In the

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—In the event of Spain's apologizing for the Allianca affair the question has arisen as to what form the apology will take. In diplomatic usage an expression of regret is often accompanied by an offer to salute the flag of the country to which an international discourtesy has been given. This was the course of the United States in saluting the French flag in 1865 and saluting the Brazilian flag in 1866.

In the former case the French flag was saluted as a mark of apology for an indignity against the French Consul at San Francisco. Mr. Marcy, the then Secretary of State, first offered to make the apology by saluting the French flag on a French manof-war at San Francisco. Count de Sartiges, the French Minister at Washington, asked in addition that when the Consular flag at San Francisco was rehoisted it should receive a salute. This was declined by Mr. Marcy, France was not satisfied, but after some months the French Government of the United States, coupled with the provision that "when a French national ship or squadron shall appear in the harbor of San Francisco the usual authorities there, military or naval, will salute the national flag borne by such ship or squadron whose flag is thus saluted will return the salute gun for gun." The salute to the flag was thus given and with such apology the incident closed.

In 1866 the United States sent a manofwar to Brazil for the express purpose of offering an apology by fring a salute to the Brazilian flag. The United States had seized the Confederate ship Florida at Bahla, Brazil, thus violating the neutrality laws. Mr. Seward, then Secretary of State, announced a purpose to make full apology, including the dismissal of the United States and commander who committed the offense, and to salute the Brazilian flag. The last feature of the apology was executed with much ceremony on the very spot where Brazilian neutrality had been invaded.

In the Virginus case the United States demanded a salute of our flag as a part of the apology from Spain,

NO RESPONSE FROM SPAIN. The State Department Has Not Heard

Secretary. In answer to an inquiry, he said that no response had yet been received from United States Minister Taylor at Madrid concerning the demand made by the State Department for reparation for the firing upon the Allianca.

The Alabama claims in the decision upon which this demand was based is coming in for a good deal of discussion here and the diplomatic corps are by no means a unit in giving it their adherence. One official contends that there never has been a practical application of the doctrine since it the diplomatic corps are by no means a unit in giving it their adherence. One official contends that there never has been a practical application of the doctrine since it was enunciated, and urges that the United States itself is the last power that can afford to surrender its claim to jurisdiction, extending even to the right of detaining and searching suspicious vessels within the waters lying three miles from our coasts.

Should this position be taken, however, it is alleged that it would be practically impossible to prevent wholesale smuggling and the violation of our revenue and customs laws at every turn. The same doctrine, if extended to Behring Sea, would throw open the seal fisheries to the vessels of all nations other than England, which would be stopped only by the specific treaty. Sig. Muruaga, the Spanish Minister, is caimly awaiting developments, but up to noon to-day he had not heard from the State Department or from Spain concerning the Allianca affair.

It was reported that the Minister had been at the State Department during the morning, but this was not the case, and as Secretary Gresham is dealing directly with the Spanish officials at Madrid, Sig. Muruaga feels that he will have no occasion to communicate with the department unless Mr. Gresham sends for him. The Minister said to-day that he hoped the excitement over the affair would not prevent temperate and good-natured consideration of the case.

He has been frank and outspoken concerning it, but does not want this to be mistaker for irritation or lack of every diplomatic courtesy to the authorities here.

"At the outset," said the Minister. "I sought Mr. Uhl, the Acting Secretary, and assured him that if the facts disclosed that the Spanish boat was in the wrong, Jaen an apology would be made, and my only desire has been to have official action based on established facts."

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 16.—The utmost interest was expressed by officers of the Brooklyn Navy Yard 1.—day in Secretary Gresham's demand upon Spain to explain the firing on the Allianca. Preparations are being made to respond to any orders that may come from Washington to have the ships now at the Navy Yards ready for sea in case they are wanted. It is the general colinon, however, among the officers in Brooklyn that if any vessels are called upon to patrol the Cuban Coast they wil be taken from Admiral Meade's squadron now in the West Indies.

ANNIE STARR DISCHARGED

The Police Raid Five of the Houses, But Are Unsuccessful With Their First Case in Court.

The bath-houses secured a semblance of a victory Saturday morning in the entering of a noile prosequi of Annie Starr's case in the First District Police Court. The Starr woman's case, together with ten others of women arrested by the police Friday night in the bath-houses raided, was on the docket. The charge against the proprietress was keeping an immoral house, and the attendants were charged with being inmates. All the women, save Annie Starr, had their cases continued. They were able to get ball, and she, not being so fortunate, had languished all night in the holdover. She wanted to get her troubles over as soon as possible, and when brought out before the judge she pleaded not guilty and demanded an immediate trial.

As all of the other women had taken continuances this move on the part of the Starr woman took the city by surprise. City Attorney Clover said he was not ready to go on, whereupon Judge Morris sat down on him and told him he would discharge the prisoner if the charge was not immediately pressed. So the case was passed down temporarily, and detectives Daneher and Schoppe sent for.

The information against the defendant was changed to charge her with committing an indecent act instead of keeping a bawdy house, and when the case came up again an effort was made to substitute this charge for the other. Judge Taafe, the woman's lawyer, objected strenuously to this, however, with the result that a nolle prosequi was entered, Attorney Clover admitting his inability to establish the other charge.

Most of the women failed to show up in court, depending upon their attorneys to secure continuances. When they find out how things turned out, they will be sorry that they did not stand trial. Maude Adams and Grace Bernard were on hand. Neither Mrs. M. Edwardes, Jessie Russell.

ude Adams had her case continued unti irch 22, Mrs. Edwardes to March 20, and ace Bernard and Jessie Russell to March It is probable that these will also have Grace Bernard and Jessie Russell to March 23. It is probable that these will also have the same result as the Starr woman's.
The round-up of the bath-houses was made last night by Detectives Dancher and Schoppe, assisted by Officers Cullen and Hancock. They went from house to house, securing evidence, until they had bagged five madames and eleven girls. They then rested on their oars. Arrests will continue, regardless of the slight set-back received, and, if cases can not be made against the keepers in the police courts, the State courts will be appealed to, and prosecutions made under the law which declares it a felony to lure persons into an immoral resort by means of respectable signs.

Annie Starr was rearrested by Detectives Schoppe and Danaher as she was leaving the Four Courts, after the dismissal of her case. She is now locked up charged with indecent exposure. It is alleged that she took off all her clothing and went through the sinucsities of the midway dance for the benefit of the ringer who was employed by the police department to hunt up evidence.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Frank Pierce, alias "Black Frank," was rrested Friday night on suspicion of steal-ing a valuable diamond. A pawn ticket alling for the stone was found in his necket cket. Emma Winters was also arrested at 18 uth Ninth street on suspicion of stealing diamond ring from George Stevens.

It Is Well Worth Knowing Now That Grip Is Striking Down Feeble People.

The economy of a nation is disturbed when great amounts of money are hoarded instead of being kept in free circulation. The economy of the human body suffers when the blood is stored up in certain organs while others have scarcely ough to live on. 2,000 BOOTMAKERS.

BATH IN COURT. The Big Labor Struggle in England Has Commenced.

LONDON, March 16.—The great lockout of bootmakers, affecting 200,000 operatives, commenced to-day.

As previously cabled, owing to a complicated dispute concerning the use of improved machinery and other matters, the members of the National Federation of Bootmakers on March 8 notified the operatives to stop work to-day. The employers, however, refused to arbitrate the question in dispute, claiming that the operatives did not accept previous decisions of the arbitrators. One of the results of this notice was that on the following day the Shoe Operatives who were not obliged to give a week's notice, and 10,000 operatives left work that day.

The lock-out it is expected, will eventualtice, and 10,000 operatives left work that day.

The lock-out it is expected, will eventually affect about $60,000 wage-workers. It has been stated here that it is a question not of fair dealing between capital and labor, but of whether English boot and shoemaking can be carried on in the face of American competition. In this connection it has been stated by the employers that even if the American operatives get twice the wages paid in England they can turn out cheaper shoes owing to their more intelligent use of machinery. The men locked out to-day in England are said to have a fund of $300,000, with which to see them through the first month of the lock-out. But it is estimated the trouble will cost the Leister District alone at least $1,000,000 in wages.

LI HUNG CHANG

In Royal State the Viceroy Proceeds to Simonaski.

washington, D. C., March 16.—The Japanese legation has received a cable measage confirming the press dispatches of the departure of Li-Hung-Chang from Tien Tsin for Japan to arrange terms of peace. The peace negotiations will be conducted at Simonoseki instead of Hiroshima as originally announced.

The change has been made to accommodate Li-Hung-Chang, who is on a Chinese vessel, and if the negotiations were held at Hiroshima would be compelled to transfer to a Japanese ship. Bimonoseki is on the extreme southwestern coast of Japan, and it was here that in the early 68 the foreign powers forced Japan to assent to the indemnities demanded of the empire. It is stated at the legation that assertions that the peace negotiations have been arranged aiready and that the whole affair is cut and dried is erroneous, and that all statements as to the details of the terms of peace are guesses, none of the details, it is said, having been settled, and will not be until the negotiations are in progress.

will not be until the negotiations are in progress.

Japan has been informed that Li-Hung-Chang has full powers to arrange terms of peace and has been assured China desires that the war be stopped by treaty agreement. The details as to the price China shall pay have not been definitely arranged neither of exact cession of territory nor the amount of the indemnity or kind of money in which it shall be paid. Japan has reached certain conclusions, especially respecting the cession of territory, but no conclusion has been reached with China. Minister Denby has cabled the State Department confirming the press reports of the departure of Li-Hung-Chang from Shanghai for Japan. He says the Viceroy sailed in Royal State with 130 persons embarked on two ships.

Fellow Servants Bill Passed.

Fellow Servants Bill Passed.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 16.—The Steele fellow servant House bill 404 passed the House yesterday afternoon by a vote of 72 to 38, there being thirty-two members who did not vote. Moran brought it up and it was ordered to a third reading before the members had time to dodge out of the room. The bill makes railroads liable for all damages sustained by any agent or servant while engaged in operating such railroad, by reason of the negligence of any other agent or servant. Contributory negligence may be shown in the defense. Railroads are prohibited from making contracts with employee limiting their liability. An amendment provides that the act shall not apply where labor organizations attempt to interfere with the free employment or discharge of its servants of any railroad.

preparing a pleasant surprise for the advo-cates of election reforms, in connection with the judges to be selected by him for tha April contest. Heretofore it has been cus-tomary for the Recorder of Voters to pick the judges and clerks from names suggested by the Democratic and Republican Central Committeemen. This method enabled the committeemen to pack the election booths with their henchmen, to the intense disgust of the reformers, who have publicly regretted that no effort has ever been made to connect the representative business and professional element of the city with the official election machinery.

Recorder Higgins concluded some time ago to experiment on this line in the coming election. The representative citizens of St. Louis are thicker than street car elec-St. Louis are thicker than street car electric wire poles in the swell West End wards. There is where the Recorder will get in his fine work, and when the election judicial selections are announced those for that particular part of the city will be found to contain the names of some of the most prominent gentlemen of St. Louis. Every one selected must serve, as the Recorder will accept no excuses, and the State election laws provide him with mandatory power.

When the list is made public the election reformers will hardly realize that instead of being arranged by a committee of good government promoters it was selected by one of the shrewdest practical politicians in the city of St. Louis.

TIRING OF THEIR WORK.

New Orleans Militiamen Want to Be Relieved.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 16 .- The militia is going through the real hardships of police duty to-day. The morning opened with a drizzling rain, accompanied by a norther which gradually grew colder as the day proceeded. The 3d and 4th Battalions were up bright and early, and by 7:30 were on the move. When they reached the uptown wharves they found several hundred negroes awaiting their appearance to go to work. The troops were stationed at various places around the ships, and the work of loading the vessels with cotton was resumed. The novelty of seeing soldiers on the river has worn off, and the idlers who for the past two or three days have been congregating around the troops were absent. The Washington Artillery and Battery B were tardy in reaching the Harrison wharf this morning. It was after 9 o'clock before they made their appearance, and as soon as they did so work was begun. of police duty to-day. The morning oper oon as they did so work was begun.

The same measure was killed by the House on Monday, since which time President P. J. Mr. William Steinway has offered the use of a tract of land containing 200 acres in Long Island City. Ex-Mayor Hewitt gives a large tract at Inwood. Columbia Colleged donates seven acres of its new site on Morningside Heights. All these offers were received before any public appeal was made, and it is expected that thousands of acres will be tendered when asked for. New York has a large area of unoccupied land. According to a census taken by Postmaster Dayton through the letter carriers, there are 17,329 vacant lots, containing over 1,000 acres, below West One Hundred and Forty-fifth street and the Harlem River. In the annexed district are many thousand acres that the committee expect to be offered for the summer's use.

WARRANT FOR STILES.

Admits He Is Wanted in Des Moines for Wronging a Girl

A warrant charging fraud was sworn out this morning by Henry Klugelschmid against George S. Stiles, arrested yesterday street with worthless drafts. From a letter found in his pocket Stiles appears to be a fugitive from justice from Des Moines, Io. He admitted that the police of that city were looking for him to answer to the charge of betraying a girl several months ago. He stated that the young lady occupied a high social position in Des Moines; that she implored him to marry her last summer, and when he refused she had attempted suicide by drowning. He said her name is May Shugart, and she resides at 1426 South Sixth street, Des Moines.

The letter found in the prisoner's pocket was evidently from some friend who knew of this trouble. The writer advised Stiles to get out of the country or the police would catch him. The letter also said that Stiles need expect no help from his father, as the latter would not give him a cent if he went to prison for ten years. The drafts given by Stiles in payment for the saloon were drawn on his father, who lives in Evansville, Wis. street with worthless drafts. From a letter

Potatoes for planting and other vegetable seed will be furnished. Each man must then attend to his little farm, and all the products are his own. Compound for Exhaustion.

FRANCHISES AT PUBLIC AUCTION.

The people of the cities of Missouri are to be congratulated upon the good work in their behalf accomplished by the State Legislature in the adoption of the Julian all for the taxation of franchises.

The Post-Dispatch earnestly advocated this measure and halls its passage with peculiar pleasure as the first fruit of a vigorous and persistent campaign for honesty and justice in the disposal of municipal franchises.

The bill requires municipal authorities to sell all franchises to the highest responsible bidder who offers the largest per cent of the annual gross receipts, but provides that no franchise shall be sold for less than 2 per cent of the gross receipts for the first five years and an increase thereafter corresponding to the increase in the value of the franchise.

Thus the people of every city and town in the State will be assured not less than 2 per cent of the product of every franchise disposed of by their representatives. How much more they will get of their just dues in the increasing value of franchises will depend upon the honesty and efficiency of their officials in guarding against bad bargains and deals and combinations on the part of franchise seekers to cheat the municipalities.

The moral effect of the placing of this law on the statute book cannot fail to be tremendous. It revolutionizes the methods of franchise disposal and directs public attention to the sound principles which should govern the granting of all valuable public privileges.

AN IDEAL SPOILS STATESMAN.

The spoils element in local politics has a new champion of whom it may be Monroe Cravens, the colored nominee for the House of Delegates, in outlining his opinions on municipal matters to a Post-Dispatch representative, said: "Of cose, I favors economy, but no cuttin' down of men. There ain't mo'n enough jobs now."

In this blunt speech, ungraced with eloquence and unadorned with the flowers of rhetoric, Mr. Cravens has embodied the whole philosophy of the spoils system. He lays down the true spoils principle, that the limit of expenditure is not defined by the needs of the government honestly administered or by the amount of funds available, but by the number of jobs necessary to go around. Economy stops at "the cuttin' down of men' and the insufficient provision of jobs for "the boys." This is the highest reach of spoils statesmanship.

With training in pugilism and practic in a shooting gallery, Mr .Cravens would be the ideal candidate of the local Demo cratic spoils organ which hailed the riot over an office in the Indiana Legislature as an evidence of virility in politics and a noble "ambition to control office."

INCREASE OF GOLD PRODUCTION.

The report of the successful trial of a new amalgamating machine which makes possible the profitable mining of the gold deposits on the Pacific Coast is significant. Machines are now at work near San Francisco, and additional ones will be put in operation as soon as they can be manufactured.

This is one of many promises of a great increase within a few years of gold production, the beginning of which was noticeable in the substantial increase of last year's output.

The appreciation of the purchasing power of gold has operated to increas gold production in two ways. It has stimulated activity in the search for and development of mines and also in the invention of improved machinery for

With the improvement in machinery which will render the profitable handling of low-grade ores possible the output may be increased without the opening of a single new mine. Enormous quantities of these dres in old mines have not been touched and there are vast deposits in undeveloped mines.

The prospect of continuing increase in gold production through these causes is strong factor in the brightening outlook for bimetallism. That it is thoroughly understood by shrewd financiers was shown by the reply of the German representative of the Rothschilds when asked why they were willing to accept thirty-year coin bonds. He said that for a short term they preferred gold bonds, but for a term of thirty years they pre ferred coin bonds, because, believing that the United States would pay in the best ney, they saw the possibility of such of the struggle between the ain the parity of silver with gold.

MAKE THE HOUSE RESPONSIBLE.

If the telegraphic synopsis of the sul stitute election bill drafted by the Elections Committee of the State Senate is correct, it is an excellent measure and should receive the prompt approval of the Senate.

As outlined in the report, the bill embraces all the essentials of a satisfactory election law such as has been advocated by the Post-Dispatch and by the friends of genuine election reform in this city and Kansas City. It has been approved by Mr. Kent, who represents the St. Louis Committee of Public Safety. It throws needed safeguards around the authority of the Recorder of Voters without compelling the Circuit Judges to appoint election officials and thus become involved in machine politics. It requires the judges only to act in their judicial capacity in passing upon the fitness of the Recorder's appointees. The bill will enable the people to reduce election

By passing this bill the Fenate may islation on the House and thus gain the commendation of the people and checkmate Filley's shrewd camraign schem to make "honest elections" a Republican war cry. If the House refuses to pass a good bill simply because it is not word for word like the Filley bill, the Republican majority of that body will show that it cares more for Filley's word than the public welfare.

PASS THAT PENDER SILL.

The street railway pull seems to be strong enough in both the State Senate and our own House of Delegates to hang up measures as vital to public safety as the street car fender bills.

The fender bill which passed the House at Jefferson City by a large majority has been hung up by a Senate commit tee and the people are treated to the spectacle of a Democratic Senate obstructing a measure strongly demanded by the public welfare and approved by the Republican House.

The holding of the Council fender bill in the Railroad Committee of the House of Delegates is inexplicable except on the theory that the little fingers of the street railway managers are thicker than the loins of the people and their word stronger than the solemn pledges of the members. Chairman Cronin and a majority of the committee-all, in fact, exlves to give prompt consideration to the bill and to do all in their power to pass it. Why have they not kept their pledges? What stands in the way of prompt action? The bill has been carefully framed and approved by the people the press and the Council. It has received at least the public indorsement of the railway managers.

The slaughter of innocents by the deadly street cars must be stopped. The people are determined that it shall be stopped. They demand protection. Members of the House of Delegates, and espe cially of the Railroad Committee, will be held to strict accountability for the fate of the fender bill. Those who stand in the way and cause its defeat will be marked as untrustworthy when the come before the people.

It is said that the suit against the Stanford estate to recover some of the millions of which the Government was robbed will wipe out the property and wreck the university. A beneficent Congress would perhaps be glad, however to do something for the university if the Government could be sure of recovering anything like the amount of which it was plundered.

Catholic Church toward the single tax might be considered from equal points of view, the theological, philosophical and humanitarian.

"The conditions which hastened the downfall of the Roman Republic exist to-day," he said, "and to-day menace the life of our own Republic. I do not know how it is in Illinois, but I do know that in Colorado ability and worth do not send men to the United States Senate. It is with us no longer a question of a bility or of worth, but a question of a man's power to buy votes. Just as Italy was absorbed by vast estates, so to-day is America absorbed by the corporations. Truly has it been said that this country is to-day a country of landlords and tenants, with the tenants in the helpless majority. It has become a grave question as to whether we are being governed for ourselves or whether we are being governed for the foreigners—the foreign landholders. And let me say now, and I say it knowing that I may be greeted with a cry of 'anarchist' or 'alarmist,' that while our 6,000,000 unemployed sit to-night holding out the hand of suppliants, they will some day rise and the suppliant's hand will become that of the avenger and will strike down the oppressor. And yet there is idle land lying within a stone's throw of the crowded tenements. Land is the source of all wealth, and he who owns it owns the people who must use the land. Labor applied to land produces wealth. We have enough labor and enough land, yet far from enough wealth. How shall this be remedied? One remedy at least is to tax the land speculator. And this, in brief, is the doctrine of the single tax, And let me tell you that if you think I could speak things not orthodox, and still escape the displeasure of those in authority over me, you little know the discipline of my church."

STRUCK A BARGAIN.

The Government and the Winnipeg and Hudson Bay Co.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 16.-Within three weeks work will be resumed on the Winnipeg and Hudson Bay Railway, forty miles of which are already completed.

Parliament in 1891 authorized the Govern ment to enter into contract with the com-pany for the payment of $80,000 annually, ostensibly for the conveyance of mails and men and supplies in case of Indian troubles over 150 miles of the lines between Winnimen and supplies in case of Indian troubles over 150 miles of the lines between Winnipeg and the Saskatchewan River, but the promoters were unable to raise capital in England, although this guarantee was supplemented by a land grant of 7,000,000 acres of land applicable to the entire 675 miles of the road. Negotiations for better terms have been going on ever since, and the company has at last been successful in inducing the Government to advance a loan of $2,500,000.

The Canadian Pacific fought hard to prevent the bargains going through, as the line will divert the bulk of the Northwest traffic to the seaboard, but the necessity of doing something to win the support of Manitoba and the territories in the approaching Federal elections prevailed with the Government, and the deal went through yesterday.

BROKE INTO HIS SAFE.

Whisky Trust Receivers Would Not Wait for Mr. Greenhut.

CHICAGO, III., March 18.—According to dispatches received from Peoria, receivers of the Whisky Trust adopted extreme measures to get possession of records that had been locked in President Greenhut's private safe. This safe is in the fire-proof vaults of the whisky company, and was filled with Mr. Greenhut's private papers. The combination was not given to the experts who have been going through the books. Greenhut in New York, explaining the situation and asking how soon he would return. It is said that Mr. Greenhut replied that he would not be home for several days and that they could not get into the safe until then. On receipt of this information the receivers sent to Chicago for an expert, who opened the safe. The documents which had been looked for were then found.

"We needed the records and were compelled to send for an expert to open the safe," said John J. Mitchell, one of the receivers, last evening. "When we reached Peoria we learned that the documents were in President Greenhut's private safe. Why he put the papers of the company there I do not understand. When we telegraphed to him in New York he replied that he would not be home for two or three days, and that we could not get into the safe until he came back. The Chicago expert opened it in a few minutes, and we got the documents we desired. They are now in the hands of the expert accountants."

Gen. McNulta says the company is in a condition highly satisfactory to the receivers. The business is going on smoothly. Of the sixty-six distilleries in the combine twenty-one are now being operated, grinding 18,000 bushels of corn and making from 85,000 to 90,000 gallons of spirits a day. The receivers are paying out about $100,000 a day in revenue taxes.

line of statistics bearing on the commercial situation, and also gives the mercantile record of the past four years. This having been a peculiarly eventful and significant period, the recent era of depression and panic beginning with the great Baring failure in the closing months of 1890, it is cheering to notice that Bradstreet's shows improvement in business conditions during 1894, and asserts that the general situation is "gradually and surely improving and that the panic of 1883-94 will soon become a memory of the past."

The official showing for the Southern and Western States is as follows: Southern—For 1894, with 159,216 firms or individuals in business, there were 2,203 failures; 1893, with 162,363 in business, 1,915 failures.

Western—For 1894, with 328,906 firms or individuals in business, 1,915 failures.

Western—For 1894, with 328,906 firms or findividuals in business, 1,915 failures; 1893, with 222,736 in business, 2,035 failures; 1893, with 222,736 in business, 2,035 failures; 1891, with 210,220 in business, 2,035 failures; 1891, with 210,220 in business, 2,035 failures.

For the country at large the percentage of failures to the number in business during the past four years is given as follows: For 1894, percentage of failures, 1,21; 1893, 1,59; 1892, 1,00; 1891, 1,22.

The record of the total failures for 1894 in the States of Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas and Texas is thus given: Failures in Missouri for 1894, 22, with total liabilities of 36,891,548, against total assets of 34,023,25; failures in Tilinois for 1894, 549, with total liabilities of 36,891,548, against total assets of 34,023,25; failures in Arkansas for 1894, 61, with total liabilities of 36,91,000; failures in Texas for 1894, 601, with total liabilities of 36,119,354, against total assets of 34,023,325; failures in Arkansas for 1894, 612, with total liabilities of 36,119,354, against total assets of 34,023,325; failures in Arkansas for 1894, 621, with total liabilities of 36,119,354, against total assets of 34,023,325; failures in

The well-bred woman of society—for she is usually a criterion in such matters, note and letter writing being more of a business than a social form of amusement—uses white or tinted paper, but always of fine quality, linen or smooth, of the correct shape and unruled. It must also be used with infinite discretion. A note must not be written on a sheet of letter paper, and no letter should be compressed into the narrow limits of a note, because a note is a few words at most and should not nearly fill the sheet. If it does it ceases to be a note, and letter paper should be used.

The residents of Pine and West Pine streets were disagreeably surprised by the information in yesterday's Post-Dispatch to the effect that the St. Louis, Kirkwood & Northwestern Railroad Co. has asked the City to grant them the right to construct tracks over one of our finest residence boulevards, a street that has been set aside for residence purposes. The Pine and Lindell boulevards are enjoying abundant transit facilities in the Laclede, Oilve and Washington avenue lines and their branches. The German Army.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The military expert who has attempted to cast ridicule on the scheme of the Social-Democrats to reform the German army has badly overshot the mark. He goes into a long array of figures to show that a militia, such as the United States is satisfied with, would bankrupt Germany. To do this he prétends that such a militia would have to be equipped, as a whole, in times of peace as well as war, with all the paraphernalia of a regular standing army of like proportions. His figures will only be laughed at. The scheme requires no such equipment, but only that a nucleus be thoroughly equipped and the rest well drilled, subject to call.

The Social-Democrats have been stigmatized as unpatriotic, but their enemies are now ready to accuse them of being over patriotic. They want a militia of 9,000.00 with "an elaborate scheme for training the young men of the country in swimming, shooting and running, and for giving them shooting and running. This looks like an expensive scheme, but as all the men would continue in the ranks of the producers and the bulk of the present standing army also be added to those ranks, there would seem to be no reason for Commercialism to stand aghast at the scheme, Any, school-boy can see that it would add vastly to the wealth and stability of the country that should adopt it.

Monopoly vs. Competition To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I read in the annual report of a railroad company that the country is going to the dogs and that monopoly is the only cure for this state of 'affairs. One set of people tell us that freedom of contract, free competition and natural laws of trade are the corner-stones of civilization. It is strange, then, to learn that these factors of progress are ruining the railroads and the country.

WAYS OF THE PADRONES.

They Explain Why Street Laborers Receive Only Part Pay.

BEG FOR WORK AT $1 A DAY.

Contractors and Inspectors Are Very Friendly, and Are Said to Reciprocate Many Favors.

There is one visible result of the con plaint of the poor street cleaners against the systematic diversion of over one-third of their wages by the street sweeping contractors. The force of about twelve men employed in sweeping around the Union Station has been dismissed. The work is now done by machines. This act of re-venge substantiates the statement of the street cleaners that only fear prevented them from making public their wrongs long ago. According to Tom McClure, fore-man of the Mueller Street Sweeping Comthe streets around the station with mamanual labor. This waste became visible at headquarters only after the unfortunate, crushed street cleaners rebelled and made

The men are themselves to biame for the reduction of wages," said McClure.

"They bid against one another. The $1 a day men displaced men that were getting $1.25, and the $1.25 men crowded out $1.30 fellows. There are men running after me every day begging to be given work at $75 cents a day. I don't want to see wages fall, but what is a man to do? Mr. Mueller wants to make all he can, and the men beghim to take them on at a reduction. They are free-born citizens, $10 do not have to work for Mueller if they don't want to."

If all that is told of McClure is true he has had very substantial reasons for not wanting to see the men's wages reduced.

M'CLURE'S INTERESTS.

A man connected with the Street Cleaning Department, and whose name and address are known to the Post-Dispatch, explained why McClure might be unwilling to see the wage reduction.

"Last July," said this informant, "two or three Italian laborers presented to Theodore Gast, Superintendent of Street Sweeping under Capt. Macklind, affidavits charging Tom McClure with making them pay 25 cents a day for $1.25 positions in Mueller's employment. Wages had been reduced to $1.25 in 1833. Gast took the affidavits, but when the time for action came he weakened. I suppose both he and Mueller were afraid to dismiss McClure. McClure held his job, but wages were reduced to $1.25 in 1833. Gast took the affidavits, but when the time for action came he weakened. I suppose both he and Mueller were afraid to dismiss McClure. McClure held his job, but wages were reduced to $1.5 in other words, Mueller began to take the rake-off instead of McClure.

"There is no question that there has been a divide all around between the contractors and the inspectors. Machines are ordered out on wet nights when no inspector living could tell in ten minutes whether the streets had been swept or not, and when the only effect possible is to plaster the mud down in the crevices between the contractor's side. I calculate that at least $1,000 a month goes into the pockets of the contractor'

"Another source of profit for the contractors is the inferior sweeping machines they are allowed to use. Of course they do not half clean the streets, and more frequent sweeping at so much a square is necessary. Besides, it costs money to buy and keep machines in good repair.

"Mueller may deny all he will that he does not make his men pay for their tools. The books show that he does. Mueller pays night as well as day men $1 per diem. He took the contract when he had to pay at least $1.50. Even teamsters get only $1.27\frac{1}{2}\text{a} day, while machine drivers are paid by the month, about $40 or $50."

CAST'S STATEMENT.

Theodore Gast was found at a saloon in front of Mueller's stable on Nineteenth and Chestnut streets. He was talking with Contractor Wade and a crowd of men unknown to the reporter out on the sidewalk to say that an afternoon paper had expressed the whole situation in a nutshell when it stated that Mueller had never paid less than $4 a day for teams and drivers when his own did not suffice.

Gast was asked about the rumor that he had his horse shod and his buggy repaired at Mueller's stable. He said it was a lie, but he did not dwell upon the subject. He went into the history of the affidavits against Tom McClure and said McClure immediately discharged - the Italians that signed the affidavits in order that they might prove their assertions. Gast said he informed Capt. Macklind of the charges against McClure and hat he confronted McClure and his accusers in Mueller's stable, and that he confronted McClure and his accusers in Mueller's stable, and that he confronted McClure and his accusers in Mueller's stable, and that he confronted against McClure and that he confronted against McClure and said mot believe this acknowledgment was made for a consideration. Gast denied that he received gratuities from the contractors, Mueller and Wade, or that he connived at the acceptance of gratiuties by his subordinates. He was also unwilling to admit that the sweeping machines in use in St. Louis were inf

NEW CITY HALL FUNDS.

Why They Are to Be Expended for Heating and Plumbing.

Heating and Plumbing.

The creation of additional divisions of the Circuit and Criminal Courts by a bill giving the Governor power to appoint the additional judges as soon as he signs it, has caused a revival of interest in the new City Hall. Circuit Clerk Rodgers called on President McMath of the City Hall Commission to inquire what provision the city proposes to make for the new judges. The ordinance, recently approved by the Board of Public Improvements, appropriating $100,000 with which to resume work on the City Hall, will, if it is passed, enable the commission to accommodate the Recorder of Deeds, the Assessor and perhaps the Collector, who now have offices in the Court-house.

If the additional courts are organized immediately premises will probably have to be leased.

Some surprise has been avinced by the leased.

Some surprise has been evinced by the public that the commission should devote a large part of the first money it has had to spead on the City Hall in a year's time to the construction of a heating plant. Summer weather will prevail before the new offices can be occupied, and a heating plant will then be unnecessary. By fall the Comptroller has said he hoped there would be another sum at the disposal of the commission.

President McMath explained the present condition of the City Hall, and what he conceived to be the logical progress of construction.

condition of the City Hall, and what he conceived to be the logical progress of construction.

"In the west central section of the basement," he said, "there are one large and two small rooms ready for occupancy. They were designed for the Recorder of Voters. The public corridor has a mosaic tile floor, the rooms themselves being floored and plastered. On the first floor on the Thirteenth street side there are five large and signed originally for the Assessor and Collector of Water Rates and the Recorder of Deeds. In all these rooms certain plaster two small rooms also ready. They were dework has been partly left undone for heating, ventilating and plumbing pipes. There has also been some disintegration of the building as a result of its being so long left exposed to dampness.

"The floor girders are all in. In fact, there are just about twice as many as necessary. In all the newer fire-proof buildings in the City Hall.

"The appropriation, according to the ordinance now in the hands of the Public Improvements Committee of the House of Delegates, is to be expended in putting in heating and ventilating pipes for the building so far as finished and for the entire north and south wings, for putting in the rough plumbing fixtures on the first floor, and, in addition, for putting in floor arches throughout the building. I believe the fund will be sufficient.

out the building. I believe the fund will be sufficient.

"The flues necessary for heating and ventilating must be put in before the plastering can be done. The piping must be put in the floors or in the walls. It would not be economical to cut out finished, work in order to the interest of the put in the put in the pipes and flues. The heating system has not yet been decided on. The heating apparatus itself may not be put in for many months."

A VALUABLE CITY ADDITION.

A Large Tract Surveyed South of Tower Grove Park.

HOW IT WILL BE IMPROVED

What Was a Wilderness Twenty Years Ago To Be Opened Up and Adorned With Handsome Residences.

One of the largest deals for the improve-ment of property that has been recorded in this city for some time has just been closed.

was part security for a loan, and taken mostly because of the valuable timber on it.

Since that time the woods have disappeared, and in a year or two "No Man's Land" will be one of the most fashionable resident portions of the city. The reason of the improvement at this time is the building of the new Grand Avenue Electric Line, which will be in operation about April 1. Because of the necessity of the outlay of such a large sum of money to make the property first-class, the stockholders of the Mutual Life hesitated in taking the step. This is another example of how a street railway enhances the value of property, and for this reason, and no other, the deal was made. The Julius Pitzman Engineering and Surveying Company was given the contract Satureday for the surveying and grading of the ground. Nine hundred thousand cubic yards of earth will be removed to reach the city grade. Mr. Pitzman secured the contract for $100,000. Next Wednesday contracts for the making of streets, sewers, gutters, pavements and planting of trees will be let, at an estimated cost for all of $20,000. This estimate was made by Julius Pitzman.

The work of laying out the new addition will not be completed until fall. It will then be known as the Tower Grove Park and Grand Avenue Suddivision. This improvement will greatly increase the value of the surrounding property. The deal caused much gossip in reality circles.

New Pine Street Buildings.

New Pine Street Buildings.

The report to the effect that Eilis Wainwright, President of the St. Louis Brewing Syndicate, had consummated the purchase of the nerthwest corner of Tenth and Pine streets is denied by his agent, Frank H. Gerhart, who has charge of Mr. Wainwright's realty deals. The deal was simply being negotiated and was to have been closed next week. Wm. Norris, the owner of the property at Tenth and Pine streets, was to accept as party asyment for the property a 50-foot lot out the south side of Washington avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, at $1,500 a foot and cash and notes to aggregate $137,500. The morning publications had it $130,000, which is incorrect.

publications had it $130,000, which is incorrect.

When finally closed the deal will mean a general stirring up among Pine street property owners. Mr. Wainwright will erect a magnificent office building on the site, and the old-faishloned three-story affairs will be torn down. The Pine Street Improvement Association is advocating a revival in realty, and with the building of several new buildings along the thoroughfare, as reported at the present time, values will go up. Rents are much cheaper on Pine than on Olive street, and first-class buildings could be made a paying investment.

class buildings could be made a paying investment.

If the negotiations pending at present between the weil-known ex-steamboat captain, Major Kaiser, pan out favorably a ten-story brick structure will be erected on the northwest corner of Broadway and Pine street. The property is owned by Captain Kaiser, and the negotiations referred to are for the surrender of the lease, which still has a year to run, by the present occupants. Certain well-known local capitalists are interested in the proposed new building. This will be still another victory for the Pine Street Improvement Association. A definite understanding in regard to the lease will likely be reached before the close of next week.

NO MORE JACK-RABBITS.

Jefferson Avenue Line's Motive Power Soon to Change.

Council and has been read the first time in the House of Delegates, authorizing the the House of Delegates, authorizing the Jefferson Avenue Boulevard Co. to change its motive power, if it passes the House, as no doubt it will, will wipe out of existence the last mule line in the city, and remove a long standing eye-sore.

The company is owned by the Maffitts and other parties interested in the Missouri Raliroad Co. and John Scullin, the well known street railway magnate. Mr. Scullin has operated the road for some time under a lease, which has expired, and how and by whom it will be operated in the future has not been developed, although it is considered certain that Mr. Scullin will control a big interest.

The latter said Saturday: "Yes, we are going to change the motive power to electricity as soon as the bill passes; we will do so immediately, and have the road equipped in first-class style." He declined to state who held a controlling interest, whether he or Mr. Maffitt, intimating, however, that it was Mr. Maffitt. He added that he still had an interest in the enterprise, however.

ON 'CHANGE.

WHEAT—The market started in wesk and declining, with quite a large amount for sale, and to be mainly for long account, but soop quieted down. After selling- off %c the market suddenly became strong and railied %c, but too much was for sale at the advance and prices soon gave way, declining %c and closing ½c below yeaterday.

Disappointing cables, Liverpool reporting duliness and futures ¼d lower and London quiet markets, gave domestic markets their downward impuise this morning. Other bearish influences were more favorable weather, better reports from the Kansas crop, clearances for week 500,000 bu smaller than week before and some pressure of long wheat on the market. The ncrease is receipts here lately noted was agan remarked to-day, though the total of 51,000 bu winter wheat at Western markets was 28,000 bu less than one year ago.

Clearances for the day from four ports in flour and wheat were equivalent to 212,000 bu and the late cables held out no cheouragement. Prices reported weak and lower on favorable weather. A sudden raily in Chicago caused by several big shorts buying gave an upward twist to the local market. A large amount cense out for sale at the advance (reported an exporter resold 200,000 May), and this selling pressure became so keen that a decline took place that continued to the close.

Futures—May opened at 50%c and sold to 55%c. Shot 55%c.

Spot Grades—Lower to sall on call, where 55%c bil for No 2 red and No 2 hard in United, but neither offered for sale.

The only outside arders filled were for 15,000 bu No, 2 red to go South. That with 5,000 bu in F at 60%e to a city mill comprised all the business to day. The bill which recently pased the City at 50%c to a city mill comprised all the business to-day. Samples—Received 875 sits, 15 cars lecal. At $46,000 for define city millers took all offerings choice, which sold this side at 50%c to $65%c and East track at 550%c. CORN—These was also a weakening off in this market, but specialtion was so sluggich that there was little action to prices. Receipts continued small, at Western markets only 120,000 be in against 378,000 one year ago, but, with all domestic market heavy and tending down, as were Liverpool and London, the light receipts were not compliced. In the hat and cap trade St. Louis has inducements to offer not given by even New York, as an evidence of which an interview below will show. As a furniture manufacturing market St. Louis is among the largest and her houses in this line are shipping their products to all parts of the country.

In many other lines this city can show superiority over other and competing markets, and the efforts of Chicago merchants to organ the trade lost to St. Louis will be futile unless they get their prices down to a lower and their qualities up to a higher level.

The Holy Ghost Evangelical Lutheran congregation are looking for a site for a new church in the West End, and numerous inquiries about property have been made among the agents.

A committee from the church visited numerous sites on Grand and Vandeventer avenues Friday, but just what selection they have made will not be known until next Tuesday, when they will report the result of their visit to the church trustees.

For the past forty years the Holy Ghost Evangelical Lutheran congregation have sat in worship in the oddly-constructed edifice at Eighth and Walnut streets. The congregation grew until its members numbered above 3,000 and the church become too small. Then it was decided to migrate west. The plans arranged at present favor the erection of a church to cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

In Certain Lines of Trade St. Louis Stands Supreme-Visiting Merchants Tell How Chicago Is Outclassed.

A Post-Dispatch reporter made the rounds of the general trade this morning and had conversations with several prominent merchants from points which are equally tributary to St. Louis or Chicago. The result is exemplified in the following strong indorsements of St. Louis, her merchants and her business methods:

CAPT. J. A. KIDD. Capt. J. A. Kidd, a prominent merchant and politician of Springtown, Tex., said: "I have had half a dozen letters from as many and politician of Springtown, Tex., said: "I have had half a dozen letters from as many Chicago houses this spring, as have all the leading merchants in our country, offering to pay our expenses to and from Chicago in the form of the provided we will buy $1,000 worth of goods or more. I cannot, however, see my way clear to accept these offers, as I have seyeral times made trips to Chicago, my expenses having been paid there, and I could never see my advantage in trading there. In the first place, their goods are unsuitable to our trade, being as a rule too heavy, while St. Louis merchants have studied the needs to furnish us with exactly what we want. In the matter of prices, I might illustrate by this.—I went to Chicago on the invitation of one of the very largest houses there, and the manager of the house instructed the salesman who waited upon me to make me the lowest possible prices, as he was determined to sell me. I examined the stock and prices carefully and came back to St. Louis to make my purchases, as even mader these to sell the manager of the shouse instructed the salesman who waited upon me to make me the lowest possible prices, as he was determined to sell me. It is possible that a circuitous route, which will include Jefferson Bartacks, will be adapted. The new arrangements to a several other propositions for the tour are in the hands of the offic

B. C. BEANE OF ARKANSAS. B. C. BEANE OF ARKANSAS.

Mr. B. C. Beane, a general merchant of Fayetteville, Ark., the country of the famous Shannon apples, said to the reporter:

"I have never found it to my advantage in any particular to buy goods in Chicago. In the dry goods lime the stocks carried there are not suitable to our needs, as they are apparently purchased for the Northern and Western country. In the matter of prices, too, Chicago does not seem to be in a position to compete with St. Louis, as there seems not to be sufficient competition there, the houses having what appears to be a kind of trust among themselves."

W. B. WOMACK'S VIEWS.
Mr. W. B. Womack, a wealthy general merchant and banker, with stores at merchant and banker, with stores at Dangerfield and Whitewright, Tex., said: "I began buying goods in St. Louis in 1878 and have since made it my main market. I have, it is true, bought goods during that time in Chicago, New York, New Orleans and Louisville, but I always come back to St. Louis. I consider that Chicago carries too heavy a line of dry goods for the needs of our people and in the marker of assortment with all her mammoth houses, St. Louis has better assorted stocks than she. Then. too, St. Louis is the natural market for Texas and Arkansas merchants from the fact that they can get their goods so much more quickly than from elsewhere and we can thus let the St. Louis jobber carry the stocks and order as we need the goods. I also find St. Louis has grown to be the finest shoe market in the country."

CAPT. JAMES T. BIGGS.

CAPT. JAMES T. BIGGS.

Capt. Jas. T. Biggs, a dry goods merchant of Collierville, Tenn., said: "I can say this for St. Louis merchants—I have bought goods in all markets and I regard St. Louis as the best in the United States for the Southern trade. You may go along Broadway, New York, or on Chestnut or Market streets, Philadelphia, and you will not find such large and so well assorted stocks of dry goods as are carried in this city. In the matter of prices St. Louis is as cheap as any other market in the country, with the advantage of freight rates in her favor and on staple lines she is decidedly cheaper than other markets."

R. P. DUNLAP'S REASONS.

Mr. R. P. Dunlap, dry goods merchant of Belton, Mo., said: "As a shoe market St. Louis offers a better market and a better assortment than Chicago, and in dry goods the assortment is excellent. Competition is also stronger in St. Louis, as here you have seven houses, as against three there. Hence you make lower prices."

B. C. BROCK, TENNESSEE.

Mr. B. C. Brock, general merchant of Greenfield, Tenn., said: "I buy my fuil line in St. Louis, including dry goods, groceries, boots, shoes, etc., and I do so because I have always found this the cheapest market on these lines. I do not buy in Chicago because I reights are, of course, higher, and because I have found stocks much better assorted here than there or elsewhere."

Schrieber made the above move in order to circumvent Louis Lovy and George C. Bennett, who were planning to take Carr away from him when he returned from the coast with his stable this spring. Long claims to have apprenticeship papers on the boy, and had "farmed" him out to Bennett. Schrieber has Carr's services contracted for over the boy's own signature, and, with the guardianship of the boy vested in him, there does not seem to be much chance of Long and Bennett getting Felix away.

Schrieber picked up Carr about two years ago and gave him the opportunity to become the great jockey that he is to-day. He has, also, treated the boy liberally, thereby earning Carr's gratitude to such an extent that even if Long and Bennett should succeed in taking him away from Schrieber, it is not likely that he would ride a mount for them. Schrieber pays the boy $5.000 a year for first call on his services, in addition to allowing him the usual winning and losing fee for each mount. The lad's retainer is banked regularly for him by his employer, and he is allowed to do what he pleases with his daily earnings. Schrieber has over $10,000 in trust for Carr.

decided that the destination should be Oakville, and provisions had been made for an entertainment at that place in the rooms of the Farmers' Club, but the latter organization has notified Chief Consul Holm that the hall would be in use on the day of the tour. Preparations had advanced so far that the cyclists had gotten out signs advertising the tour to Oakville and made arrangements for a reception by the soldiers at Jefferson Barracks as they passed through.

The Associated Cycling Clubs will take the matter up and arrange a new destination at a meeting to-day. Several other propositions for the tour are in the hands of the officers, and one of them will be accepted. It is possible that a circuitous route, which will include Jefferson Barracks, will be adapted. The new arrangements will be found in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 16.—In the Buperfor Court, Felix Carr, the well-known colored jockey, who is but 17 years of age, had a guardian appointed for him in the person of Barney Schrieber, the horseman for whom Carr is riding. The boy has about $7,000 in cash, and has an income of $10,000 a year, and his only relative is his aged mother, who lives in Nashville, Tenn. Schrieber will control the boy's future contracts to ride.

However, the latter, after his bout with Tracey in Chicago, next week, has agreed to take on Billy Smith, and in view of this fact, it is probable that O'Rourke will fall in line with Col. Hop-kins.
